ABSTRACT

This mediagraphy lists 236 audiovisual materials on New Jersey subjects. The media presented include film, filmstrips, video and audio cassettes, records, and slides. History and geography are emphasized, but subject areas include the social and natural sciences, arts and letters, medicine, and ecology. Entries are listed alphabetically by title, and each contains the name and address of the producer and distributor, year produced, type of medium, suggested grade level, presentation length, and a brief annotation. The entries appear to have been identified largely via the National Information Center for Educational Media (NICEM). Grade level designations are pre-school and kindergarten, primary, intermediate, junior high school, high school, college, teacher education, adult education and general use, special education, religious, professional use, and industrial use. A subject index is included. (LMM)

Introduction

This mediagraphy lists 236 audiovisual materials on New Jersey subjects. The media represented include film, video and audio cassettes, filmstrips, records and slides. The subjects are weighted heavily toward history and geography, but include the social and natural sciences, arts and letters, medicine and ecology.

Entries are listed alphabetically by title. Each contains the following information (when available): name and address of producer and distributor, year produced, type of medium, suggested grade level (see table below), and presentation length (minutes, frames, etc.). A brief annotation describes the content of each item, except in cases where that is obvious from the title.

A subject index follows the alphabetical list of entries. Numbers following index entries are the numbers of relevant entries in the alphabetical list.
